

FLUSH CASEMENT WINDOW

As one of the leading aluminium fabricators in the UK, A Plus have always been at the forefront of innovation and product offering to the fenestration market and the flush casement strengthens this position.

The A Plus flush casement window brings about new possibilities for the residential and commercial marketplace.

The elegant slim sightlines really add an elegance to traditional or contemporary buildings whilst its superior energy and weather ratings elevate the flush window to a new level in design and performance.

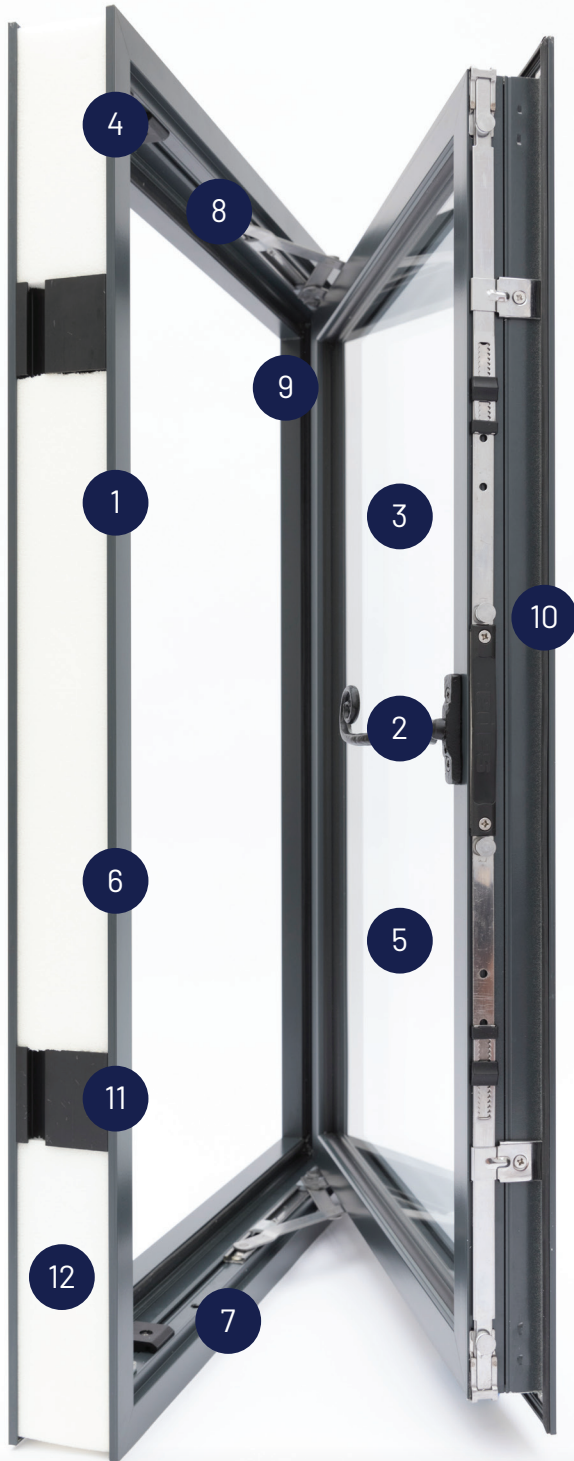

Ideal for a replacement of an existing set of windows or in a new build property the flush casement comes with a variety of options including the unique flush vent design. Refined in house at A Plus the vent highlights how aluminium is the perfect material in which to offer a flush casement option to your customers.

All styles are available with choice of double or triple glazing. Our stunning range of hardware options compliment the end result you are trying to achieve be that modern or classical. The long leg outer frame with matching transom and mullion are all options.

Completing the range of options is our powder coating finish in any RAL colour you choose or if in doubt we offer dual colour options to satisfy all tastes. White and RAL 7016 grey are both available from stock.

As you would expect the flush casement matches the full range of A Plus rated windows and doors thus offering a seamless range for any building.
